Headline:

Sunny but windy in Cornwall and along the south coast.

Today:

A bright and chilly start. Fine and dry throughout, with sunny skies. However, feeling cooler along the south coast and in exposed areas with brisk and gusty winds. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Tonight:

A fine end to the day but quickly turning chilly overnight. Risk of gales in exposed areas in Devon and Cornwall, and rural frost in the east. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Friday:

Another pleasantly warm, sunny day. Remaining bright and dry but the sunshine occasionally turning hazy, particularly in the west, where winds also remain strong and gusty. Risks of coastal gales. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:

Remaining largely dry during this period and feeling warm in the day, with continued chance of rural frosts overnight. Strong winds in Cornwall and Devon gradually ease over the weekend.
